MESSAGE FROM FATHER BROWN

If I asked for a one-word summary of the Scriptural themes at our Masses of the weeks between Easter and Pentecost (10 May), I would choose excitement. If I were to pick two more words, they would probably be affirmation and perhaps humor.

We have a passage from the Acts of Apostles every Sunday and many weekdays. And, even though we see the Apostles experiencing some trial and persecution, they cope well with it (even rejoice in it), because they are so excited and successful at spreading the message which Jesus sent them to proclaim. They cannot know the outcome, that the following of Christ will be a global phenomenon; but they believe, and more importantly, they are joyously doing the will of the Savior Who inspires them.

One of these Apostles, John, aka, the Beloved, will live longer than any of the others.....maybe as much as sixty years after the death of Jesus. And, in his later years, he will write, and write, and write - a Gospel, three Letters, and the Book of Revelations. His First Letter, though brief, is full of ‘the power of positive thinking.’ We will hear passages every week until the Sunday after Ascension (12 May). Saint John knows very personally the powerful effect that the Love of Christ can have on the human spirit; and, he writes beautifully about it, to our benefit.

The last chapter of Saint Luke’s Gospel is one that is alive with excitement and, I think, humor. This is the chapter that begins with the women at the empty tomb. And goes on to describe several encounters with the risen Jesus. In today’s selection, the followers are still astounded and maybe skeptical at seeing and hearing Jesus. To counter that, He says in effect: “Give me something to eat, and I’ll show you that I’m not a ghost!”

The bubbling water of our sanctuary fountains provides an audible reminder that the somber days of Lent and Holy Week have passed. Let us now hear the lively and life-giving messages of the Saving Word of God proclaimed in our worship and our prayer.

The first disciples were people who witnessed the risen Christ in the flesh. It was only when they gave themselves completely to Christ that their doubts and fears were released. To be the stewards that Jesus desires, we too must give ourselves completely to Him.
